

NSW Legal Practice Management Course

NSW Program Manual

LPMC NSW Program Manual

Introduction

This document, together with your online enrolment and the Terms and Conditions, form the contractual agreement between the College and participants in the Legal Practice Management Course (LPMC)

Satisfactory Completion

On achieving satisfactory completion you will receive a Certificate of Completion and the College will inform the Law Society of NSW. Satisfactory completion requires satisfactory participation in the course in which you are enrolled – including completion of all assessable and non-assessable activities, namely:

- completion of all preliminary interactive activities
- full attendance at the workshop, and
- achieving a passing mark in the online assessment (as defined below).

Assessment

Assessment in this course is based on:

The requirement of The Law Society of NSW that you must demonstrate the required standard of competence in each core subject to pass this course and receive a Certificate of Completion. As such, you must:

- achieve a mark of 50% or more in the entire online assessment (consisting of short-answer questions) and demonstrate satisfactory competence in each core subject (by achieving a mark of 50% or more in each core subject)
- complete all non-assessable course work to a satisfactory standard, and
- attend and participate to a satisfactory level in the workshop.

Program structure

The LPMC has a blended structure, consisting of online components and a 3-day face-to-face workshop. The start and end dates of each course, and the workshop dates, will be as advertised on the College website. The College reserves the right to vary those dates or cancel an advertised course.

Access to course materials is via the Learning Portal. You will have access to the Learning Portal over the course period. Access will be available for approximately ten (10) weeks in all, starting three weeks before the workshop and ending eight weeks after the workshop. This allows for sufficient time to receive feedback on the assessment and for any re-sits. The workshop will be held at the College's premises at Level 16, 111 Elizabeth Street Sydney 2000, or otherwise as advised.

Workshop attendance

Attendance and participation in all workshops is mandatory. Due to strict attendance guidelines promulgated by the Law Society of NSW, if you miss 15 minutes or more of any one subject/session within the workshop, you will be required to make up that entire subject/session at a later date.

Workshop make-up sessions

If you do not complete all workshop sessions, you will be offered an opportunity to attend missing components at a later workshop. Note that the daily timetable structure may not be the same for each workshop.

If you are required to make up one or more sessions, you will incur an administration fee of $250, except where missed sessions are due to extenuating circumstances, such as medical or health issues (where you will be required to submit a medical certificate and/or other relevant evidence). Work obligations, including meetings and work phone calls do not qualify as extenuating circumstances. It is at the discretion of the Practice Leader, LPMC as to whether any non-medical/health issue qualifies as an extenuating circumstance warranting a waiver of the fee.

Missed workshop sessions due to approved extenuating circumstances must be made up within three (3) months from the last day of the workshop (College schedule permitting). Sessions not made up within that time frame will incur an administration fee of $250.

Online assessment due date and non-submission of assessment

The online assessment is due the first business day, 2 weeks after the last day of the face to face workshop (eg. If a Friday or Saturday are the last days of the workshop, the assessment is due on the first Monday, two weeks after the workshop. If Monday is a holiday, the assessment is due the next business day). Any outstanding preliminary activities must be submitted by the above due dates as well.

If through circumstances beyond your control you are unable to complete the assessment within time limits you must:

- notify the Practice Leader LPMC in writing, no later than the due date for your assessment, and
- submit a medical certificate and/or other relevant evidence.

The Practice Leader may make such special arrangements as the Practice Leader deems fit.

Work commitments or pressure of work will not be an acceptable circumstance

Late submission of assessments and failure to submit all preliminary activities by the same due date as the assessment will incur an administration fee of $250.

Assessment re-sits

A participant who is assessed as not yet competent will be given an opportunity to attempt the relevant areas of the assessment again.

If you have achieved a mark of 50% or higher on the entire assessment, but need to re-sit on the core subjects where you did not achieve at least 50%, the first re-sit will be free of charge. Any subsequent re-sits will attract a fee of $250.

If your entire assessment mark is below 50% you will incur a re-sit fee of $250. Subsequent re-sits will also incur a fee of $250.

Re-sits are to be completed within fourteen (14) days from receipt of notification (posted on learning portal) as being not yet competent in any core subject area. Late submission of re-sits will incur an administration fee of $250.

Automatic double marking

To ensure fairness, if any re-sit receives a mark below 50% (either in its entirety, or in a core subject) a second re-sit is automatically double marked by a second marker. Only if the markers are in agreement that the assessment is a fail standard, will it be released to a practitioner.

If after the second marking of a second re-sit a participant is still assessed not yet competent then if requested by the participant the assessment will be moderated by the Practice Leader LPMC or the Director Practitioner Education (or a suitable nominee).

If a participant is still assessed not competent but seeks further review, then the College's over- arching (PLT / ALP) review policies would apply.

Feedback on your work

You will receive feedback on your submitted assessment through the Learning Portal if you do not demonstrate the required standard of competence.

Transfer between courses

Transfer between Legal Practice Management Courses will attract an administration fee of $250. Credit may be given for work done in a previous course, at the discretion of the Practice Leader Legal Practice Management or nominee.

Incomplete Status

The following circumstances will result in an incomplete for the course:

Failure to complete the assessment (or re-sit) in a timely manner, special circumstances as described above excepted

Failure to complete all of the preliminary activities

Failure to complete all workshop sessions

If you are given an incomplete, and outstanding requirements are not completed within two (2) months of the last day of the workshop (excluding make up sessions for workshops, which must be completed within three (3) months of the last day of the workshop), you will need to be re-enrolled in a subsequent course in order to complete any outstanding assessable and non-assessable activities, which will incur an administration fee of $250. You will not be automatically re-enrolled – you will need to contact Client Services directly. If you still have not satisfied outstanding assessable and non-assessable activities in a re-enrolled course, you will be charged the full course fee for each subsequent enrollment in a new course in order to complete requirements.

Competency and proficiency

By enrolling in this course you acknowledge that you have a sufficient level of computer literacy and English proficiency to satisfactorily participate in the course and complete the course requirements.

Plagiarism and academic misconduct

The College takes plagiarism very seriously and expects a high standard of work from students. We also understand that it is often a part of the learning experience to discuss what you are learning with your peers. However, any work you submit must be your own and, when you submit work through the Learning Portal, you must certify that the work is your own. Making a false representation as to the originality of your work may result in a finding of academic misconduct.
